

“The physicists have known sin; and this is a knowledge which they cannot lose.” J. Robert Oppenheimer, MIT Lecture, Nov. 25 , 1947

NUCLEAR SECURITY

Nuclear Security and CST with David Dault, PhD

Examine the intersection of nuclear policy and Catholic Social Teaching (CTS) in contemporary global contexts. Pope Francis issues a dual challenge: condemning the possession of nuclear weapons while acknowledging a role for nuclear power in addressing environmental concerns. Both weapons production and energy generation share common raw materials and waste management issues, creating a complex policy landscape. This course prepares students to become informed and passionate advocates for humane nuclear policies. Students will learn to translate and synthesize CST with well-researched energy policy positions into effective public communications, including press releases, op-eds, letters to representatives, position papers, and parish and diocesan communications.

ONLINE VIA ZOOM
MONDAYS • 7PM-9PM CT • $500

Explore the latest research from a theological and pastoral perspective in a graduate class

CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR ADULTS

To REGISTER: Mirta Garcia – mgarcia29@luc.edu

Space is Limited!

LOYOLA
UNIVERSITY CHICAGO

INSTITUTE OF
PASTORAL STUDIES

We are “a free, unmerited and forgiving, and absolute self-communication of God.” Karl Rahner, SJ, Foundations of Christian Faith, 116

Theology of Karl Rahner with Heidi Russell, PhD

Karl Rahner, SJ, a Jesuit and pastoral theologian, was one of the most influential Catholic theologians of the 20th century. The pastoral implications of theology and his own spirituality were the driving forces behind his theology.

This course invites you to explore his major work in Systematic Theology, Foundations of Christian Faith, and his volumes of Theological Investigations to reach a deeper understanding of the Trinity, Grace, and Christology and of how they play out in spirituality and pastoral theology.

Explore the latest research from a theological and pastoral perspective in a graduate class

ONLINE VIA ZOOM

MONDAYS

12PM-1:30PM CT

$500

CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR ADULTS

To REGISTER: Mirta Garcia – mgarcia29@luc.edu

Space is Limited!

LOYOLA
UNIVERSITY CHICAGO

INSTITUTE OF
PASTORAL STUDIES