

DIVINE AND HUMAN OTHERS: MYSTICAL THEOLOGY AND HUMAN FLOURISHING

A public colloquium on the mystical in Christianity and its significance today

Celebrating the contributions of Adriaan Peperzak,
Schmitt Professor of Philosophy, Loyola University Chicago

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

"One Word of God Will Contain a Thousand Mysteries":
Teresa of Avila as the First Woman Commentator on the Song of Songs"

Bernard McGinn
The University of Chicago

ROUNDTABLE CONVERSATION WITH ESSAYISTS FROM THE OXFORD HANDBOOK OF MYSTICAL THEOLOGY

Ann Astell
University of Notre Dame

Kevin Hughes
Villanova University

Gemma Simmonds, C.J.,
Heythrop College, University of London

Patricia Beckman
St. Olaf College

Cyril O'Regan
University of Notre Dame

David Tracy
University of Chicago

Douglas E. Christie
Loyola Marymount University

Joanne Maguire Robinson,
University of North Carolina

And other Oxford Contributors

CONCLUDING REFLECTIONS

Adriaan Peperzak, Arthur J. Schmitt Professor of Philosophy, Loyola University

Tuesday, October 27, Coffey Hall – McCormick Lounge, 2:00 – 5:00 P.M.

For more information, contact: Prof. Mark McIntosh at mmcint@luc.edu

Generously supported by The Hank Center for the Catholic Intellectual Heritage, Loyola University Chicago